Welcome to Horetown House

CEAD MILE FAILTE

This Georgian gem was home to three families before we were able to call it home ourselves. Built in 1692, Horetown House is a remarkable blend of 17th century origins and 19th century Victorian design. This Wexford landmark was originally constructed by the Goff family who held it in their lineage until 1918 when the house was sold to Major Lakin and Lady Kathleen Fitzgerald. The property changed hands again in 1961 when the Young family took ownership, transforming it into a guesthouse, restaurant, and equestrian centre, introducing polocrosse to Ireland.

Today, the custodianship of Horetown House rests with the 'White family". Kate, Niamh along with extended White family members are dedicated to preserving its authenticity and sharing its beauty with others. This exclusive event venue is brought to life through a commitment to farm-to-fork gardening, sustainable cooking, and eco-friendly practices. Our dedication to preserving the house's history while embracing modern elegance has made Horetown House a sought-after destination for unforgettable events.

Situated within ten acres of lush parkland, Horetown House offers a perfect setting for garden weddings. Farm to Fork

EXPLORE OUR GARDENS

We are dedicated to enriching our gardens, cultivating our own flowers for weddings. This sustainable practice allows us to avoid importing commercially grown blooms. Each year, we introduce new varieties, with Dahlias, Tulips, Peonies, and Ranunculus growing in popularity. In 2022 we installed our polytunnel to facilitate the growth of our own produce of herbs and vegetables for use in our kitchens and the creation of seasonal menus for our guests.

Guests are warmly invited to leisurely explore our gardens, finding a diverse array of flowers, herbs, and vegetables that often make their way from our garden to our dining tables.
